

Multimeter + SunMod

Position the knob of the multimeters to either show the volts of electrical difference between the two poles of the solar panel or the amount of current (AMPS) that could flow between the poles.
Try it out in different lighting conditions. You can also replace the multimeter with an LED and make it light up.

